Grady well Received in Citrus Country

Special to the Herald
by Walter Wurfel

...EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story appeared Wednesday in the St. Petersburg Times under political writer Walter Wurfel's byline.

...Wurfel said Wednesday that although traditionally conservative Polk County is four to one Democratic in registration, it was Democratic U.S. Senate candidate Richard Stone who seemed to be in alien territory. ..."My impression," Wurfel said of Belle Glade physician John Grady, "was definitely not that of a radical third party candidate who doesn't stand a chance. Grady and Eckard received all the applause. Grady was there first, at the reception before the speeches, and was the last to leave. ..."I left about 15 minutes after it was over," he said, "and Grady was the only one left, talking to people."

WINTER HAVEN—With words of patriotism and conservatism, U.S. Senate candidates wooed the concentrated power of Florida's citrus industry last night (Tuesday).

For the first time in the campaign, all three Senate candidates on the Nov. 5 ballot appeared on the same platform. The two lieutenant governor candidates were there as well.

But the emotional favorites of the 250 persons at the annual meeting of the Florida Citrus Showcase were not there—they had been defeated in the Democratic Primary—citrus magnate Ben Hill Griffin for Governor and Bill Gunter for U.S. Senate.

"Now I suppose I'll vote for the lesser of the evils," said one grower before the addresses by the Senate hopefuls: Democrat Richard Stone, Republican Jack Eckard and John Grady of the American Party.

In the heart of ultra-conservative Polk County, in a giant orange-domed auditorium, Grady drew applause when he said, "Government is really sick and I think it needs a Florida country doctor."

The Belle Glade general practitioner; "I still make house calls," said, "I spent four years as a jet fighter pilot and I've never quit fighting since—for the American dream in the American way."

"History has shown that the most stable people are those closest to the land. Consequently, we must preserve the rights to property."

A cheerful Grady said Wednesday morning his campaign is really beginning to pick up steam, now the primary elections are over and done with.

...He has had a reporter and a photographer from the Palm Beach Post accompanying him for the past several days.

...Following a speech at Daytona Community College, Grady said he was leaving the college when Marilyn Alva, the reporter, asked him his reaction to his reception.

...I asked her what she thought," Grady said he replied, "and she said, 'I was surprised but what did you think?' I told her I was pleased."

...Wurfel said he had talked to Ms. Alva and she told him Grady had been "enthusiastically" received at the Daytona engagement.

...People are beginning to see who the true Constitutional conservative is in the race," Grady said, "and they're beginning to sit up and take notice."

Chamber Backs Beef Legislation

The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce struck a blow for area cattle ranchers and steak lovers everywhere Tuesday night when the Chamber Board of Directors unanimously endorsed a proposal by board member Alvaro Sanchez.

Sanchez, general manager of the Big B Ranch, proposed support of changes in U.S. Department of Agriculture grading requirements on beef which would lower the amount of excess fat on steers.

He said the changes would not lower the quality of the beef in any way but would decrease the amount of grain a steer would have to be fed in feed lots after being shipped from Florida pasture, where it attains a weight of 400-450 pounds.

After reaching the feed-lots, the steers are fed grain for approximately 180 days until they reach a weight of 1,000 pounds. "It's a curious thing," Sanchez told the other chamber board members, "but the value of beef on the hoof is going down and down while the price of beef in the retail markets are going up."

"This excess fat is something we could afford when America had so much surplus grain," he said, "but now it costs 50 to 55 cents to put a single pound of weight on a steer in a feedlot where it cost only 20 cents just a couple of years ago."

Sanchez said the fat is usually trimmed away at the slaughterhouse anyway, and doesn't affect the amount of marbling and useful fat required for beef to be given a certain grade.

Sanchez said the only objections so far have come from the packing plants because they have to pay the same amount per pound for leaner cattle they pay for fat cattle.

"It would help the housewife too," he said, "because in the long run, there would be more beef in the supermarket and the price would come down."

"With the price of grain going up," he said, "it's impossible to raise a cow and get it fattened up for market and still make a profit."

Lee to Host, Weaver to Install

Banquet-Regatta Well Underway

The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce finalized plans for its annual installation banquet Tuesday night and began laying plans for the ninth regatta, scheduled for Nov. 17.

The banquet, set Oct. 25, will feature U. S. Congressman Paul Rogers as the principal speaker and will take place at Elks Lodge No. 1617.

Executive Secretary Jewel Mancini said the chamber has already mailed out invitations to the banquet to all 263 members and tickets are already on sale at the chamber building.

Fr-Eddy's Catering Service will provide the food for the banquet, with New York strip steaks and baked potatoes followed up by cheesecake forming the backbone of the meal.

County Commissioner E. W. "Bud" Weaver will install the officers for the coming year. New officers for the year are President Bob White, First Vice-President Roy Burch, Second Vice-President Louise Kirchman and Treasurer Curtis Thompson Jr.

New board members include Robert Pease, Charles Ward, Earl Meredith and Wayne Mihal.

Bob Lee will be the toastmaster. U. S. Senate hopeful John Grady will provide the welcome. George Wedgworth will make the introductions and the Rev. Mark O'Farrell will provide the invocation.

The regatta will be held at the city marina in conjunction with the American Power Boat Association and there will be a total of $1,000 in prize money awarded.

Mrs. Mancini said she had been told by AFPA Chairman Edward Hausman he anticipated 75 entries in at least 10 classes.

The winner of each class will win $60, instead of the $50 first prize awarded last year, while second place winners win $25 and third place winners win $15.

The chamber is investing a total of $600 for the venture and will be selling barbecue dinners and operating concession stands at the site.

The dinners, like last year, will be built around half chickens, baked beans and cole slaw and tickets will run $3 per person. A concession stand will be on the east side of Rim Canal and one will be on the west side.

President Bob White said Dr. J. Allen Baker will be in attendance and Terry Moss Ambulance Service.

Last year, high winds caused accidents which made the need for an ambulance obvious. A total of three accidents took place during high crosswinds and the regatta was cut short to avoid further mishaps.

Patrolling the area will be members of U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 55, formed in the past few months in the Glades and commanded by Joe Clayton.

Ex-Chief Gets 15 Years

A year and five months after being fired by Mayor Verlan Cox, former South Bay Police Chief Charlie B. Clark was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years in prison for each of 14 counts of embezzlement.

Palm Beach County Circuit Judge Marvin Mounts ordered the sentences to be served concurrently and the final eight years of each count are to be suspended, giving the former chief three years in prison and eight on probation.

Clark and two of his officers were fired May 22, 1973 during a special meeting by then Police Commissioner Cox after all three refused to resign after being asked to, leaving only two officers in the department. Mrs. Cox fired all three officers because of "irregularities" after demanding their resignations.

At the same time, she asked for, and received, the resignation of Patrolman Billy Fields, but stressed this had nothing to do with the other three. City officials had found Fields couldn't qualify at that time, because of a technicality, as a patrolman, but Mayor Cox made Fields dispatcher at that time.

Fields is now the only member of the police department to have survived the housecleaning and the following reorganization under the present chief of police, August Dreosen. Fields is now a sergeant in a 12-person force.

Mini-Pumper

The new mini-pumper recently received by the Belle Glade Fire Department is only waiting for its pump to be ready to roll on short notice. The pump is supposed to be in sometime this week and will give the department the ability to answer calls faster than ever. It is also designed to act as a sort of multi-purpose vehicle.

Diabetes Chapter Is Forming

A Glades chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation is in the process of being formed by Belle Glade Postmaster Kenneth J. Turner and he's looking for other people interested in stopping "The Quiet Killer."

Turner said he and his wife are already members of the foundation chapter in West Palm Beach but he would like to see a Glades chapter formed to localize efforts to stop the disease.

Turner noted the life expectancy of a juvenile diabetic is approximately 40 years, the disease is the third largest major chronic disease for children in the nation and is the fifth major killer of children in the United States.

He said the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation is primarily interested in juvenile

How in the HE..

We were taught in college journalism never to use naughty four letter words in print. And while the more liberal press has gone to some of their uses, we still remain somewhat conservative.

But you know, "How in the Heck" just doesn't cut it for a comment on President Gerald Ford's new economic program he outlined for Congress and the nation Tuesday afternoon.

So we are going to compromise our journalistic morals just a bit and say, "How in the He.. does he have the audacity to ask us—the little people—to tighten our belts when the government spends money so wastefully."

How in the He.. can he call upon business to pay more taxes so the government can give more of it away to people who set in bars all day long because it's more profitable not to work than it is to work.

How in the He.. can Ford ask a single person making over $7,500 to cough up another five per cent of his income when inflation caused by foolish government spending has sent inflation out of sight.

All politicians should be made to take a month out of their life and live on an average salary. Or (expensive deleted) on what is considered an above average salary. Let's put some of these $40,000 plus congressmen on a $15,000 a year budget with no extras for expenses and see how long they could survive.

Why hit the little guy again—when Congressmen could have their salaries and their expenses cut in half and still make many thousands more than even a well paid American.

Let's fight inflation where it begins—in big government. Let's cut out contractors getting 200 and 300 per cent of what they bid on costly military overruns. Let's cut pouring more and more good money after bad down the rat hole called the U.N.. All we get is a hassle for the billions of dollars we waste there every year.

If the U.S. Government could start living within its means, then the president would have the right to ask us to sacrifice.

But not now, man. Let the man who criticizes our dirty wash have a clean one first. No, we can't buy the President's suggestions. It is placing the blame at the wrong person's feet. It is not the man in the streets fault the country is in such mess. Yet he is the one who is going to be asked to bail out the country once again.

Now we ask you, how in the he.. can that be considered fair.

Here's to You, Alvaro

Let's hear it for Alvaro Sanchez and American cattle producers everywhere.

During a meeting Tuesday night at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, Sanchez eloquently explained a proposed modification of grading beef which would help both the cattle farmer and us...the beef-lovers of the world.

Any time you can satisfy both the producers and the consumers in one fell swoop, that's an accomplishment, so here's to ye, Alvaro; and the USDA.

No Way

Over a generation ago, freedom from want was incorporated in the charter of the American welfare state. The federal government assumed obligations to its citizens that could only be maintained through endless government deficit financing and inflation. Now, freedom from want threatens to become a cruel hoax unless inflation can be controlled.

A plain-speaking editorial in a McGraw-Hill publication asserts, "There is no easy path that will take us where we want to go. The easy paths lead backward or nowhere. There is no way to produce less and have more...we all—business, labor, government and private citizens have a job to do."

There can be no guarantee of security for individuals or for nations. Security hinges on character and hard work—productivity. "There is no way to produce less and have more."

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Fish fry Thursday, barbeque Saturday night and barbeque Sunday afternoon. You'd think I'd get burned out on things like this after awhile, but I don't.

Got to talking to Jerry Gummere and a few others Sunday on our second barbeque in two days (Glenn had still another one on the coast later Sunday) and Jerry made a point I'd never thought of before.

"A lot of people run down my town," Jerry said, "but Belle Glade has a lot to offer," and someone pointed out there isn't another city in Southeastern Florida with the barbeque facilities we have.

I'd never looked at it that way but come to think about it, I don't believe I've ever seen a town where so many city, civic and private functions come in the form of a cookout—and we have some of the finest fish fry and barbeque chefs going right here in little old Belle Glade.

I haven't looked into it yet but I doubt if there are very many times when two weeks or more go by when someone isn't using the Aubrey Farmer Pavilion at the city marina.

And, like Jerry said too, a lot of people come in for these cookouts but if any of them ever go away hungry, it's their own fault.

It's probably only natural that in a community so devoted to farming, you'd have a lot of people learning how to cook vegetables raised here but the number of good cooks never ceases to amaze me.

Take that fish fry Thursday the Glades Central Athletic Council threw at the high school annex cafeteria.

On second thought, I'll take it. I've more or less gotten used to catfish as these fish fries but that was the first time I've eaten bass in a heck 'by a long time.

Now, to say I like bass is like saying Romeo liked Juliet. I crave bass but I can't catchem. Fishing is one of the most obvious sports in the Glades but they ignore me so over the years, I've learned to ignore them.

And since catfish are the only freshwater fish you can buy, I usually stick to them and mullet, which I also happen to like.

Athletic Council member Ken Bowermeister, who is also the automobile mechanic teacher at Glades Central, provided the bass, and when I say provided, he provided.

There must have been at least half a dozen bass as catfish. The only thing I couldn't understand was why anyone would have wanted catfish when bass were available.

Got a few interesting tidbits through the mail this week from Republican U.S. Senate hopeful Jack Eckerd.

Would you believe, for instance it's costing us taxpayers of this country $1,000 a second, that's right, second, to service the national debt?

And here's President Ford talking about throwing a surtax of 5 per cent on any single person earning more than $7,500 a year, and any married couple making a combined total of $15,000.

The gummint's been trying so hard to eliminate discrimination because of race, creed, color, sex, age and what have you. I wish, for crying out loud, they'd stop discriminating against me because of my marital status.

If they're going to slap a surtax on a person based on his income, a form of discrimination in itself, why compound the discrimination just because a person isn't married?

If anything, logic would seem to decree the discrimination should lean in the other direction since families use more governmental services than do single persons.

At any rate, while the gummint is looking for ways to stop inflation, it might consider the $375,000 spent by the Navy recently to study the characteristics of the frigate, the $30 million new office for the top brass of the U.S. Postal Service, including a solid marble counter top for the postmaster's private bathroom and such recent studies as the one to find out why kids fall off tricycles.

It might also consider why little ol' Fort Pierce Utility Co. pays only $11.61 per barrel of oil needed to fire its generators compared to the $12.25 Florida Power and Light purportedly pays for its oil.

How in the world can a little buyer like Fort Pierce get oil that much cheaper than a gigantic company like FP & L, which supposedly buys in much greater bulk? Tell me, huh.

The Welcome Wagon lady died this past weekend.

And I am very, very sad. For a couple of reasons. First, there wasn't a nicer person for people to first meet when they came to Belle Glade than Edith Freedlund. She had to be one of the nicest, friendliest people I have ever met in my life. She did a great deal of work for the paper—much of it just because she wanted to—not for monetary reward.

And then, I promised myself while I was in Pahokee that I was going to stop by and see Edith. When I first found out that she was dying I couldn't believe it. The last time I had seen her she looked so healthy and robust.

But something kept coming up and I never could spare the few minutes it would have taken to stop by and try to cheer up a friend. And now it is too late. I'm quite ashamed of myself.

Everything happens for the best, I guess. A couple weeks ago I got a speeding ticket—first one in 13 years. It slowed me down and probably saved my life the other night.

I was coming back from the coast late Sunday night. I had just made the turn onto Airport Rd. and started toward Belle Glade. Now in pre ticket days I would have been travelling around 80-90 miles an hour.

But even though I have never seen a police car on that road that far out I was still going 55 miles an hour. It's getting to be somewhat of a habit.

It was raining and the road was slick. All of a sudden I heard the unmistakable sound of a tire going flat—the sound only air spurting from a hole in a tire can make.

I immediately took my foot off the gas and restrained myself from hitting the brake. By the time the tire was completely flat and basically uncontrollable at any high rate of speed the car had slowed to less than 10 miles an hour.

I know that if I had been going at my usual pace I probably would have ended up in a canal or against a telephone pole—or at best in the middle of a rain field.

So it is a lesson I learned. Thank goodness I didn't have to learn it the hard way.

By the way, the column I did on receiving my ticket has continued to create much comment. Another friend, whose name I shall not quote because I promised her I wouldn't, got caught in a VASCAR trap between here and Clewiston. She wanted to know if her name would appear in court news because her husband doesn't know about it.

And as tempted as I am to give you just a tiny hint as to who it is, I shall remain a good boy and talk about something else now.

Just one parting shot. The phrase "slow down and live" isn't just a slogan. It's the truth.

It's good to be back home again after my two week stay in Pahokee. A lot has happened—a lot has been going on.

This weekend was a good case in point. The March of Dimes people got together out at the marina for one of Belle Glade's famous outdoor feeds. Some 45 members of the coastal March of Dimes board of directors came over to visit with about 100 good people from the Glades.

The GCI band played music well into the night and the old, old saving goes, 'good time was had by all'. The food was superb as usual and the poor devils who had to do the cooking, sweated up a storm as usual.

There in lies the reason for this column. Tricky little devil, aren't I?

As much as we use the marina facilities it is a disgrace to make the cooks—almost volunteers—sweat off 15 to 20 pounds every time they pull KP duty.

Almost every organization in Belle Glade uses the marina at one time or another.

How about getting all of them together in a cooperative effort to get that kitchen cooled down. I don't really know how to measure temperatures as hot as they get in that kitchen without the aid of a thermometer. But if it doesn't get over 120 in there most of the time I would be willing to say it gets close to that.

So how about it? Here we have a community facility which needs to be improved. Is the community willing to get behind a drive to improve it?

George Was Cool

By Jerome Turk & Edw. Walsh

Philadelphia, Oct. 10, 1774—Cool, close-mouthed, Col. George Washington sits unobtrusively at Carpenters' Hall, listening to the oratory. There's plenty of it at this first continental Congress & that's typical of him.

The 42-year-old planter from Virginia is surely the best listener here. A tall, hard-faced patrician who is powerfully built, dresses well & carries himself with an easy, soldierly air, the Colonel has never yet risen to speak at Congress. He has been appointed to no committees. Still, he attends all sessions & hears them out.

A loyalist detractor who claims he knows the Colonel well has told us Washington is "shy, silent, stern, slow and cautious. He has no quickness of parts." About the only tribute this man will pay the

Colonel is that Washington is an "admirable farmer" & that he is "strictly just and honest."

We find George Washington to be a precise, punctual, patient man. He is a thinking man. He seems to marshal political facts as carefully as he manages three plantations of about 8,000 acres at his Mt. Vernon estate. His friend and compatriot, Patrick Henry, rates him the most important delegate here for his "solid information and judgment."

When Henry and another delegate stayed overnight at Mt. Vernon en route to this Congress, they were admonished by Martha Washington (the Colonel calls her "Patsy") to 'stand firm. I know George will.'

Col. Washington has stood firm on at least one issue: He strongly

"Eternal vigilance is the Price of Liberty"

★★★★ Wendell Phillips 1852 ★★★★★

Money: Webster's American Dictionary defines money as gold, silver, or other metals coined and issued by a government as a medium of exchange.

Question: Exchange for what? Working or not working, producing or not producing. Some way, somewhere, this wealth must be created by the people as the government can coin the medium of exchange.

The AMERICAN way to create is founded on one word—LIBERTY.

Our precious heritage enshrined in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when the stars were first planted on the soil of independence and the stripes were first unfurled for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. Just as the tradition of liberty is as old as the hills, so the principle of the AMERICAN way to create is as old as the hills. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal—that the greatest freedom and prosperity be achieved for all Americans.

Our flag is a symbol, not of material, but of liberty; the history of men and women willing to die for it. It is the symbol of the AMERICAN way to create. Daily we renew the spirit of the flag that our sons and daughters may live in freedom.

THE REV. ABE CASTOR AND FAMILY...celebrate their first anniversary here.

Castor Celebrates 40th Anniversary

Over 40 guests attended Open House last Sunday at the Manse of Everglades Presbyterian Church, the home of the Rev. Abe Castor and his family, 1008 North Main St., adjacent to the church.

The Manse, built in 1948 by Spence Whitlock and other volunteers, originally served as a sanctuary for the new congregation; and has housed all of the pastors of Everglades Presbyterian Church since the church was organized.

The interior of the Manse was painted and repaired a year ago when the new pastor's family was due for arrival. New windows were installed this summer, as well as exterior painting and repairs at a cost of over $2,000.

A brief dedication service was held in the Manse at 4 p.m. at the beginning of the Open House festivities; during which the pastor and his family expressed appreciation to the congregation for the excellent home they have provided, as well as the many hours of volunteer labor donated by members of the church.

This is the first time in many years that the Everglades Manse is fully occupied, as preceding ministers had none or fewer children. The Rev. and Mrs. Abe Castor have four children: Stephen, 11, Stanley, 9, David, 7, and Deborah, 6 years.

Hostesses for the Manse Open House included Mrs. Urban Feing, President of the Women of the Church; Mrs. Katherine Prior, one of the original founders of the church; and Mrs. Cecil McClure, Church Historian, and wife of the Chairman of Building and Grounds.

GCI Employees Complete Training

Two employees of Glades Correctional Institution were recently graduated from an intensive 160-hour training program in Correctional administration, correctional operations and human relations at the Correctional Training Institute at Balford.

B.W. Caswell and R.F. Landry were the latest to complete the first half of a 320-hour training program begun several months ago by the Florida Division of Corrections as part of a general program to upgrade personnel around the state.

The second 160 hours of training will take place on-the-job during employees' regular working hours at GCI.

Attending the same session of classes was the Rev. Sammy Long, pastor at the Church of Christ in Lake Butler. Long is a citizen volunteer and is the first civilian to complete the training program.

Those who finish the first part of the program also receive nine semester credits from Lake City Community College.

"One, two, three, unh!"

Every one in awhile a person (or two or three) decides he or she is getting a little bit more flabby in some certain areas of the anatomy and something has to be done about it.

The same thing occurred to a friend and me the other night as we were lying around the house, bored with nothing to do. As all people tend to do sometimes when they have nothing better to talk about, we started complaining about how flabby we were getting—only this time we did something about it—for awhile at least.

We got to thinking about all those awful exercises (or callisthenics as our teachers liked to put it) we used to do in school and thought maybe they were good for something, although I never saw any improvement in them.

Starting to feel ambitious, we got down on the floor and started with those good ole sit-ups. Linda couldn't get past five at first without giggling as I was grunting and counting along with her. But she did look so funny as she struggled to raise her body up! Finally, she made it to 10 and then sat back as I took my turn. Him, not too difficult, so far.

As the evening wore on, we kept remembering different kinds of exercises and executed them—to the best of our ability, I might add. We were afraid we were going to be sore so we took it a little easy that night.

The next night we were a little harder on ourselves. I forced myself to 25 sit-ups and as I got up gasping I wondered how I could ever get to 100 of those in school. But even then we were confident—and went on ahead to do some leg exercises.

This exercise consisted of lying flat on your back and lifting your leg off the ground and slowly crossing it over the other leg as far as it will go. It is pretty easy at first and you wonder how it could ever help your muscles, since you didn't feel any strain on your muscles at all. (Didn't your phys. ed teacher ever tell you that you weren't doing an exercise right if you didn't feel any strain on your muscles?)

Bust just try doing that for 100 times consecutively. Poor Linda, I really didn't think she was going to make it. If you don't feel any strain or hurtin' after that, then buddy you really ain't doing it right!

As a result of those-ahem-leg exercises, I am still walking around with stiff legs as of this writing.

I couldn't make it through the third or fourth night of the exercises, although Linda did do a few on the third night.

All I can say is more power to her.

Belle Glade Christian and Glades Day School have yet to win a game this season as they both fell to their opponents last week, Christian by a score of 25-4.

Glades Central is on the other end of the football however, as they chalked up a 13-0 victory over Cardinal Newman's Crusaders to rank No. 2 in the State AAA ratings.

They have a toughie Friday night as they travel to the west coast to face St. Petersburg Central Catholic, a school who upset another strong team, Tampa Juliet, last week by a score 21-12.

Could be the Raiders are looking forward to another state championship?

Glades Central Shuts Out Crusaders

The Glades Central Raiders rode a super bad defense and the passing arm of Rigo Ruiz to a 13-0 victory and the number two spot in statewide AAA ratings.

It was a game of big plays, turnovers and penalties but the Raider defense kept the Crusaders in their own territory the entire first half and out of the end zone the entire game.

And while the Maroon Machine defenders racked up their tenth straight quarter without giving up a touchdown, the offense found itself playing the officials as well as the Crusaders as three touchdowns and a field goal were called back on penalties.

Senior Quarterback Rigo Ruiz brought the crowd to its feet on the first play of the Raiders' second possession when he lofted the ball to Anthony Burger on a 65-yard touchdown pass.

Ruiz connected with Alexander Brown in the second quarter with a 13-yard strike and placekicker David Kinlaw ended the scoring for the night with his PAT.

Howard Moses had a six-yard touchdown run called back, Alexander Brown's beautiful 34-yard touchdown was voided, Moses' second strike into the Crusader end zone on a one-yard plunge was called back, and with minutes left in the game, David Kinlaw's 17-yard field goal kick was ruled out for still another penalty.

The Raiders took the opening kick-off and marched to the Crusader 24-yard line before a holding penalty killed the drive but on the Raiders' next possession, Ruiz hit Anthony Burger on the Crusader 22-yard line.

Burger eluded two Newman defenders by turning against the grain and racing into the end zone to yelling, screaming encouragement from the home bleachers and the sideline.

Kinlaw's try for the extra point was blocked and the quarter ended with the Raiders holding a 6-0 edge.

Midway through the second quarter, Raider linebacker Bruce Rimes intercepted a Cardinal Newman pass at the Newman 43 yard line and raced the ball down to the Newman 18 yard stripe.

Three plays later, Ruiz found Alexander Brown all alone in the right flat and he scored from 13 yards out. Kinlaw's conversion was perfect and the Raiders went ahead with the final score of 13-0.

Minutes later, Kinlaw missed a 33-yard field goal just before the half ended.

In the second half, the Cardinal Newman Crusaders took the kickoff and marched to the Raider five yard line before the Raiders took over on downs. Two plays later Ruiz fumbled on his own two and the Crusaders recovered.

The score wasn't over yet, however, as the Raider defenders forced a fumble on the next play and linebacker Charles Small recovered the ball in the endzone, ending the game.

Weather Postpones Field Trip

The Audubon Society field trip scheduled for last Sunday afternoon was washed out by the rain and blown away by the wind. It wasn't even a fit day for ducks!

All is not lost, however. On the theory that it can't rain forever they will try again this week. The meeting place is the swimming pool parking lot (back of the park) in Cleveland at 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 13.

Carry a picnic supper and binoculars if you have them. There should be even more birds after the rain.

Hunting Season Opens Nov. 9

Florida's general hunting season opens on November ninth and most Florida sportsmen have their spots all picked out. These are the most lucky ones. From past experience or hunting group tradition, there are set places to go and they are known like the back of your own hand. Some sportsmen aren't as lucky - newcomers to an area, hunters or groups who have been displaced by development or overcrowding, or just those of us who want to try someplace different. To these folks, getting to know their newly selected area is a job, particularly if you live in Orlando and have selected a spot in northwest Florida. Maps are the obvious answer, the Florida Game and Fish Commission offers a few maps...but these are relatively small scale and limited to their system of wildlife management areas. But there are other sources of maps available. For example: the Department offers a series of maps which almost-made to order for the sportsmen. These are black and white maps which show paved roads, dirt roads, lakes, streams, structures, power lines, etc. The scale is one inch to two miles so most counties fit onto one sheet and that folds or rolls into a compact package for carrying. These are available at a cost of thirty-five cents a sheet from most D.O.T. District Offices or from the Supply Department, Department of Transportation, Hayden Burns Building, Tallahassee. Maps of the three National Forest in Florida (Ocala, Osceola, and Apalachicola) are available from the U.S. Forest Service, 214 South Bronough, Tallahassee. These are detailed to the extent of showing all roads and trails and campsites but do not show topographical details or the like.

RAIDER DEFENDER DAVID JONES WAS IN HOT PURSUIT...Friday night as he chased down Crusader ballcarrier Tomm Flynn.

Raiders Win, 13-0

Crusaders' final threat of the game. The Raiders' offense finally got moving in the fourth quarter but a rash of penalties kept the Raiders from scoring anymore points.

It was Rigo-Rain's night and he was selected Back of the Week as he passed for 114 yards and two touchdowns plus rushing for 70 yards in six carries for a total of 184 yards.

Ruis was followed by Alexander Brown, who scored one touchdown and rushed for 84 yards in 12 carries. Howard Moon rushed for 36 yards in 12 carries while Anthony Burger had 15 yards in four carries and Nathaniel Howard had 11 yards in eight carries.

Blocking aggressively on the offensive line to pave the way for the Raiders' running attack were Davey Locke, Clark Lloyd, Buster Collins, Rodall Collins, Allen Innes and Dicky Sweet.

The Defensive Player of the Week wound up in a tie between safety man Willie Wright, who made seven tackles, and linebacker David Kinlaw. Kinlaw, David Jones and Calvin Wright all had seven tackles each. Charles Small had five tackles and recovered one fumble while Bruce Rimes made five tackles and intercepted one pass. Middle safety T.J. Salter and Cornelius Brown made five tackles and Salter intercepted one pass.

All in all, it was a strong showing for the Super Bad Raider front five, composed of ends Cornelius Brown and Rodall Collins, tackles David Jones and Ernest Jackson and noseman Calvin Williams.

Linebackers Kinlaw, Rimes, Small and Michael Washington played well along with the secondary composed of Anthony Parrish, T.J. Salter and Willie Wright.

The Sticker of the Week once again went to Bruce Rimes and Cornelius Brown for their crisp tackles on Newman ball carriers.

The Raiders travel to St. Petersburg Central Catholic for a game with the unbeaten Cardinals, who are ranked fourth in the State AA poll. Friday night.

This past weekend, Catholic knocked 10th ranked Tampa Juliet from the unbeaten ranks with a solid 21-12 victory.

Raiders' Coach Al Werneke said the Cardinals have been described by Tampa University Football Coach Dennis Fryzell as, "the most polished ball club I've seen all year."

The Raiders will be home again Friday, Oct. 18 for a game with the Suncoast Chargers.

Washington Is Thinking Man

favors the non-importation and non-consumption of British goods as a way of forcing parliament to back down on its recent Intolerable Acts including the military occupation of Boston.

Washington, who is at his best as a conversationalist at many small dinner parties here, told us the other evening: "I think, at least I hope, that there is enough public virtue left among us to deny ourselves everything but the bare necessities of life."

In one respect it may not be too great a personal hardship for the Colonel to deny himself imported clothing. He dislikes the frills, lace and embroidery favored on the Continent for gentlemen's dress. He has often complained that his mail-order tailor, one Charles Lawrence of Fish Street in London, makes the breeches too short for the long-thighed six-footer.

At the same dinner party, Washington reacted to the recent proclamation of his old acquaintance, Gen. Thomas Gage, the military governor of Massachusetts, who has made it a part of treason to interfere with British trade. Instead of behaving like an English governor, Washington said, Gage is acting more like a Turkish bashaw. (I winced at the Colonel's choice of words.)

Col. Washington has never had formal military training and holds his commission as a provincial, not a member of the regular British army. He became Virginia's hero 19 years ago during the french and Indian War. He helped extricate the troops of the ill-fated Gen. Edward Braddock from near-ambush. Two horses were shot from under the Virginian as he courageously attempted to stem the retreat of Braddock's army.

The Colonel keeps in touch with many of the Virginia veterans who served with him. Yesterday, he penned a letter to Capt. Robert Mackenzie. Now holding a British commission and attached to the 43rd Regiment in Boston, Mackenzie had complained that Massachusetts' colonial leaders are seeking total independence from Britain.

"I am as well satisfied as I can be of my existence that no such thing is desired by any thinking man in North America," Washington wrote.

And Col. Washington is, in our opinion, one of those thinking men.

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK -- OCT 6-12

Nobody said it was going to be easy.

The men who signed the Declaration of Independence knew the heavy responsibilities that came with independence. Each one was aware of the dangers and hardships that lay ahead, as they signed. It was not a time for sunshine patriots then. It is not a time for sunshine patriots now.

Democracy has never been, and never will be, an easy form of government to live under, because it is a government of the people. As such, it makes each of us responsible for the way the government works. If a crisis develops, if the system falters, each of us shares in the blame.

In times like this, the role of the newspaper becomes even more important to the democratic process. It is not our job to just report the news. We must reveal everything you need to know to understand the news. It is not our job to make judgments for you. We must give you all the facts you need to make the right judgments for yourself. As responsible journalists, we have an obligation to inform you—fully, accurately and honestly. As responsible citizens, you have an obligation to use that information.

Our country was born in a time of crisis. We have lived through dangerously troubled times throughout our history. If the democratic system fails, it will not be a crisis that kills it. It will be the ignorance and apathy of the people. As Thomas Paine said, "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must undergo the fatigue of supporting it."

How Wet Was It?

"It was raining so hard the ducks weren't even flying." It may be an old cliché, but Sunday it was true at the marina: as rain and high winds pushed Lake Okeechobee up into the driveways and parking lot at the Belle Glade Marina. Donald's kin do seem to be enjoying themselves though as they swim over the area cars usually parked in beside the Aubrey Farmer Pavilion.

Postal Service Gearing Up for Christmas

Postmaster Kenneth J. Turner offers the following tips on how to prepare Christmas parcels for mailing:

A single item in a package should be cushioned with shredded paper, excelsior, compressed tissue paper, cloth, or expanded plastic foam.

If two or more items are mailed in the same carton or box, cushioning material should protect all items from contact with each other, and each item should have its own individual wrapper.

Fragile articles, must be individually cushioned, and all four sides of the container should be padded with cushioning material.

Tape used to seal containers should be durable and should cover or firmly secure all flaps. Paper for the outer wrapping should be at least equal in the quality and strength to the kraft stock used for grocery bags. Incidentally, such bags, in good condition, provide excellent wrapping when trimmed to the proper size to fit the package snugly.

Wrapped packages that contain delicate articles should be marked FRAGILE.

Each package should contain the name and address of the person to whom it is being mailed inside the package as well as outside. An address contained inside is insurance that it will be received promptly even if the outside address should become lost or obliterated.

Be sure to put your return address on the package. And, finally, address the package correctly and legibly. Be sure to include the ZIP Code. (Call your local post office if you don't know your ZIP Code.) Mail with the proper ZIP Code is processed more rapidly.

Be sure to put only one address on the outside of the parcel. Do not address on more than one side.

Urging all customers to mail as early as possible, Turner recommends the following dates by which residents of Belle Glade should deposit Christmas mail to the points indicated:

October 15 International surface parcels to the Far East.

Days Inn Opens On Busy U.S. 27

Who would ever want to try to open up a business that's only half built? Stan and Norma Sensky...that's who.

"There are a lot of advantages to start from the ground up like this," Stanley Sensky said Monday, referring to his five months of employment as general manager of the new Days Inn in South Bay, which began opening rooms a little more than a week ago.

"For one thing," he said, "I know where every screw and bolt in the place is. We placed every stick of furniture so we know the layout."

"We had a chance to start the staff on a small scale," his wife, Norma, chimed in. "That gives us a chance to work out the bugs before we're in full swing."

Beginning their employment as general manager and Tasty World restaurant manager in April (The Tasty World is expected to open in about three weeks) has also given them a chance to work out a few unique twists to the restaurant-motel with franchise owner Charles Royal.

A representative of Days Inn told us this was the best constructed Days Inn he's ever seen," Sensky said, "and we think that's a tribute to Charles Royal."

The construction included little differences as two rooms being designed for paraplegics who have trouble finding accommodations with wheelchair victims in mind.

The two units, one being used as an office now, don't look all that different. As a matter of fact, the casual visitor probably wouldn't notice any difference at all.

Little things like an extra wide bathroom door which opens outward instead of the normal narrow door opening inward...that's almost impossible for a person in a wheelchair to manage; or like the bars in the bathtub designed to act as handles for a person with crippled legs.

The bathrooms of the South Bay Inn were also the cause of a comment by a chain inspector. "He raved," Norma said, over the one-piece modular construction of the bathrooms in the 122-unit motel.

She said the walls, floor and ceiling of each unit's bathroom came in one piece and simply unfolded from the tub, which acted as a shipping crate.

With the exception of the two "wheelchair rooms," every unit in the motel is identical with but two exceptions. There are several units with connecting doors and there is one unit designed with the travelling interviewer in mind.

This one room has a studio couch where a person setting up a temporary headquarters can interview local people.

The couple opened the first 25 rooms for public use about two weeks ago, adding more in blocks, including 100 Monday, until there are only 25 rooms left to be completed, mostly with minor work to be done on such items as air conditioners and color television sets.

The Sensky's said that while the motel may be new, most of their business during the second week has been repeat business.

Norma said there is a Jamaican couple who registered the second night they were open, signing in for one night, and as of Monday night, the couple were still guests.

Stan said he also expects to get quite a bit of trucker business and Norma tells of the night shortly after the motel opened when six semi-trucks rolled in from Miami at 3 a.m.

One thing Royals is doing to make sure he gets his share of the trucking trade is to set aside one wing

"We've been all over the area," Norma said, "and I don't think there isn't a place which offers full four-star service like we intend to offer."

"The chain says we'll keep the restaurant open from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.," she said, "but we're keeping the hours flexible."

They said there is the possibility they will keep the restaurant open 24 hours a day but they'll have to wait and see what the demands are.

"This isn't a tourist area," Royal said, "and we don't expect to keep the restaurant busy with just tourist traffic so we're gearing the operation to the local people."

One of the features the South Bay motel will be offering which isn't part of the standard Days Inn design will be a private dining room which can be used for parties or business conferences.

Included in the restaurant building will be the registration desk and a gift shop and gas will be available to travellers outside the restaurant.

Royal said the Days Inn chain has begun only five years ago in Savannah, Georgia and is now spread coast to coast. The chain has doubled in size every six months of its existence while it is now the seventh largest such chain in the world, less than five years it's expected to be second only to Holiday Inn.

The philosophy behind the growth has been to run an economical luxury motel chain, charging by the room instead of by the room.

Each room has two double beds but a single person is charged $9.98 per night, with an additional $3 charge for each adult and $1 for each child under the age of 17, although there is a $2 charge for rollaway beds if needed, or $1 for a crib.

primarily for truckers...including a paved parking area large enough to hold 30 full-size rigs.

Other services which will be available to guests will be a swimming pool and a playground for the kids, and we're thinking of putting in a putting green for the golfers," Royals said.

But the Sensky's light up when they begin talking about the soon-to-open Tasty World. This will be Norma's domain but with a combined total of 45 years of experience in the restaurant business, both will have a lot to do with it.

"We want the restaurant to be one of the best in the Glades," Stan said. "We have a standard menu we have to go by as part of the chain but we can add extras."

One of those extras, although the restaurant's bread and butter will be hand-crafted thin, will be a full fountain service.

Cancer Drive

Belle Glade Lions Club President Lenwood Fuller gets together with Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club President Sue Teets on a spaghetti dinner the Lions are holding to raise funds for the American Cancer Crusade. The dinner is the Lions' part in helping the Juniors raise funds for the annual cancer drive. "This is the most we've collected for quite a few years," Mrs. Teets said when she reported $1,625 already sent into campaign headquarters. The spaghetti dinner will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. Friday at the Belle Glade Civic Center.

Dance to the Music

There was something for everyone Saturday night at the barbeque held for the Glades March of Dimes Advisory Committee, even if "everyone" wasn't a member of the committee. Committee chairman Marjorie Exhols said 32 Glades residents have offered to take part in the committee and a teen program is being started. Mrs. Exhols said 125 people came to the barbeque, the first gathering of the committee, with some 45 coming from the coast. Barbequed spare ribs and corn on the cob were featured along with music from the Glades Correctional Institution Band and chance visitors like those above. Everyone enjoyed themselves until midnight.

The Parson Pontificates

Poor old Jerry Ford is getting called on the carpet to explain why he pardoned Richard Nixon. As I see it, it was his legal prerogative to do so. But the political critics want to be sure the public realizes how mistaken it was, so they ask, (Why did you do it?) He wants to tell them: (Well, fellows (and ladies), its like this! Richard Nixon, almost singlehandedly, made me President of the United States. Now every one who chooses me, out of two hundred million people, can't be all bad. I thought he had been humiliated sufficiently, so I did him a good turn, and saved the U.S.A. a lot of money and harrassing.) Now that wouldn't be far from the truth! Why Ford could no more turn his back on Nixon than Job could on David. How about an essay reply on that? (If Samuel 30)

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

The bible, God's word, has often been compared to a light, for it penetrates the darkness and reveals God to man. It is the light that leads man down life's pathway. For those who study it, it reveals not only the past, but also the future.

"The entrance of thy words giveth light, it giveth understanding..."

Attend church and hear God's leaders expound on His word.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Effects of the Bible on the World

The Bible has had a greater effect on the world than any other single book, organization or program. Its history is the most extensive, its impression on mankind unparalleled.

Coming first from the hand of shepherds in the form of scrolls, and passing along through the austere cells of monks who meticulously copied down each jot, and title in order to reproduce the precious texts, the Holy World has weathered the passage of millenniums and stretched across uncharted seas to work its influence in virtually every corner of earth.

It has passed through ages when to read it was criminal, when itinerant merchants peddled its pages secretly from door to door under the guise of selling beautiful cloth or rare jewels. Only when the true desire of the householder was discovered did the work its influence in virtually every corner of earth.

A visit to the galleries of the world will reveal that the Bible has been the inspiration of most of the world's great artists. Priceless canvases and pieces of sculpture have the Bible as their inspiration. They bring to life the printed Word, and make visible the stories and characters of this the greatest of story books.

Perhaps the saddest effect the Bible has had has come through the perversion of men's minds as they have sought to force upon others their own interpretation of Scripture.

The scourge of holy wars is a dark blot on the name of Christendom. Thousands have died at the hands of those who thought they were doing God a service, forgetful of the Prince of Peace, whose gospel is one of love.

The crusaders galloped across the land proclaiming Christ with the sword. A queen caused blood to flow in the name of her religion. And fear shivered the hearts of men in an age when to read the Bible was an offense punishable by death.

A controversial book? Controversy has raged through the ages over the turn of a phrase of Scripture.

Inspirational? The most beautiful lives have brought peace and pure joy of living to millions, because they believed His Word.

Scientific? Matters searched by modern science are easily spoken in words penned by the ancients whose names identify the changes of this Book.

Practical? No more practical application to real living exists than the principles set forth in these pages inspired by the Creator of mankind.

Applicable to today? To read this Book is to shudder at the accuracy of its description of our world today, and only by applying its guidance can any sense be made of a world staggering under the accumulated greed of men and nations. For so shall it be, the Bible says, "in the day of the coming of the Son of man."

Keep your car running well. Makes sense. Costs less for gas, no breakdowns, no "downtime," no inconvenience. Gets you where you want to go. We have expert mechanics and technicians here at JIM HERRING CHEVROLET-OLDSMOBILE, so come on in for service.

LEA LOS CLASI- FICADOS

El Dies de Octubre

La Guerra de los Diez Años fue inicialmente organizada por Francisco Vicente Aguilera, Pedro "Perucho" Figueredo y Francisco Maceo Osorio, tres ilustres hayamenses, que los cubanos tenemos que recordar siempre. La primera reunion preparatoria, con representantes de otros lugares de la Provincia de Oriente y aun de Camaguey, tuvo lugar en la finca San Miguel del Rompe, en la jurisdiccion de Victoria de las Tunas. Reuniones posteriores tuvieron lugar en la Finca Munoz, en el Rancho de los Culetones, y, finalmente en el Ingenio Rosario, todos lugares de la provincia de Oriente. En todas estas reuniones se fue destacando la personalidad impresionante de Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, abogado y rico hacendado de Manzanillo, de palabra vibrante, que urgia a sus compatriotas a iniciar el movimiento cuanto antes, porque consideraba que las condiciones necesarias para su exito ya existian, y porque ademas, se corria el grave riesgo de que el movimiento fuese descubierto por los espanoles y fuese abortado.

como habia ocurrido con otros muchos intentos similares en anos anteriores.

A los acordes de la vieja campana de su Ingenio, una de las mas preciadas de nuestras reliquias, que en aquella oportunidad no llamaba para iniciar las jornadas del trabajo, sino para el inicio de la libertad, fueron reuniendose sus amigos, y tambien sus esclavos, a los cuales concedio en aquel momento la libertad, invitandolos a seguirle en el empeño libertario de la Patria.

Tal vez aquellos treinta y siete hombres no estaban bien conscientes de la gigantesca empresa que estaban iniciando. Porque aquel 10 de octubre de 1868 fue el comienzo de una larga lucha casi incesante de treinta anos, al cabo de los cuales, al fin Espana se decidio a abandonar a nuestra Isla. No eran hombres guerreros, sino pacificos ciudadanos, casi todos ricos, y ahi tenemos un aspecto mas de la grandeza de aquellos hombres, hombres que amaban la Patria y no estaban dispuestos a vivir sin libertad, aunque tuviesen todas las cosas que el dinero y las riquezas pueden producir.

Stop Thinking Of Ghosts

"Stop thinking about ghosts" the Rev. Abo Carter declared in his sermon at Everglades Presbyterian Church last Sunday.

In presenting the evangelical doctrine of the Holy Spirit, Rev. Carter explained, "The Holy Spirit is the spirit of Christ in you. When you receive the Holy Spirit, whether you call Him the Holy Spirit or say that Jesus has entered your heart."

In his attempt to simplify the complex theological ideas of Christian Faith, Rev. Carter explained that Jesus taught "a Comforter" to take His place. "This was the Holy Spirit!"

The Presbyterian pastor declared, "It is the Holy Spirit who causes us to understand the message of salvation; it is the Holy Spirit who causes us to feel the guilt of sin; it is the Holy Spirit who helps us to repent and believe."

"Indeed," he explained, "No one can say 'Jesus is Lord' except by the Holy Spirit." (1 Cor. 12:3)

Rev. Abo Carter is presently preaching a series of sermons on the basic Christian beliefs at Everglades Presbyterian Church, North Main St. at Ave. K, each Sunday at 11 a.m. The public is invited to all services.

Ocean Festival To Begin

Would you like to see what an off shore nuclear power plant looks like? Or have you ever wondered what the state of Florida does in the area of marine research? Or how about viewing a new Perry submarine or a model of the Link sub?

These and many other outstanding exhibits can be seen by you and your family at OCEAN FESTIVAL on Sunday, Nov. 10, at the Science Museum and Planetarium of Palm Beach County, Inc. from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Science Museum is launching a gigantic membership drive during the month of October with the goal of doubling its present membership. OCEAN FESTIVAL is the culminating event for this drive.

The Festival is free to all (normal admission fee is .50). In addition to these fascinating exhibits (and not all are oceanographic), you'll be able to enjoy the many facets of the museum's permanent exhibits, planetarium show ($1.00 charge), Discovery Room, and new Marine Science Science Room. There will also be slide and film presentations, children's rides, and an old fashioned barbecue prepared by the South Side Kiwanis club.

Tickets for the barbecue must be purchased in advance from the museum phone 996-1988. A chicken-plate is $2 and a rib plate is $3.

The Science Museum is open year-round Tuesday thru Sunday and located in beautiful Dreher Park. Membership rates begin at $15 a year for a family.

Please come on Sunday, Nov. 10, for a stimulating and enjoyable OCEAN FESTIVAL, and a sneak preview of what the Museum has to offer you.
